

CONSTRUCTION MANAGERS (ANZSCO: 1331)

Construction Managers plan, organise, direct, control and coordinate the construction of civil engineering projects, buildings and dwellings, and the physical and human resources involved in building and construction.

Employment

Employment for this occupation remained relatively steady in the past five years and rose very strongly in the long-term (ten years). Looking forward, employment for Construction Managers to November 2020 is expected to grow moderately.

Unemployment

Unemployment for Construction Managers is average.

Job openings

Over the five years to November 2019, the number of job openings for Construction Managers is expected to be high (greater than 50,000). Job openings count both employment growth and turnover (defined as workers leaving their occupation for other employment or leaving the workforce).

Educational profile

The most common level of educational attainment for Construction Managers is Certificate III/IV (34.8 per cent).

Gender

The female share of Construction Managers is 5.2 per cent and 92.5 per cent of Construction Managers work full time. Average weekly hours for full time workers are 44.8 (compared to 40.2 for all occupations).

Age profile

The main age group is 35-44 years (27.8 per cent) and the median age is 44 years (compared to 40 years for all occupations).

Earnings

In August 2014 (latest available data) weekly earnings full-time before tax (and not including employer superannuation) were $1,795 (compared to earnings for all occupations of $1,200).

Industries

Construction Managers are mainly employed in: Construction; Professional, Scientific and Technical Services; and Manufacturing.

